Ways to help out at home

Reading – By now your children have been exposed to many different genres and styles of books. Do they have a favourite? Can you help them explore some alternatives? Avoid the authors you’ll find in supermarkets for a while and see which new favourite you can find.

Writing –Plan the Summer holiday. Make lists of what you will need to take, where you would like to visit, what you would like to do. And if you’re on holiday don’t forget to write a diary.

Tea time talk (Oracy) – Where would you like to go on holiday and why? Can you find a book or article about somewhere and then convince the family to go there (even if virtually)?

Maths – Money and time! Practise working out change in shops. Use timetables to work out how long things last for. Work hard on those important life skills.
